

Handbook on Alternative Theories of Innovation

Edited by Benoît Godin, Full Professor, Institut National de la Recherche Scientifique, Montréal, Canada, Gérard Gaglio, Full Professor, University Côte d'Azur, France and Dominique Vinck, Full Professor of Science and Technology Studies, Institute of Social Sciences, University of Lausanne, Switzerland

This insightful Handbook scrutinizes alternative concepts and approaches to the dominant economic or industrial theories of innovation. Providing an assessment of these alternatives, it questions the absence of these neglected types of innovation and suggests diverse theories.

'This Handbook truly deserves its designation as such. It provides a comprehensive and multi-faceted overview of different conceptual meanings, theories, usages and interpretations of "innovation". Far beyond the most familiar association with technology and industry, the reader is introduced to "social", "responsible", "sustainable", "disruptive" and other variations of innovation, their respective rationales, theoretical underpinnings, philosophical and policy implications. This collection of contributions by well-respected authors is a fascinating and unique attempt to capture the many paths covered by "innovation" as a traveling concept.'
